Special Report on CPS Sponsored Child Abductions: CPS Insiders Blow the Whistle

Dave Hodges

May 22, 2014

The Common Sense Show

I am presently in touch with two former CPS agents, one senior analyst for a war college and two mainstream publications who are investigating many of the same allegations that I am going to bring forth in the next two articles. For now, I am not publishing names, however, this may soon change and names and exact positions may indeed be identified.

Disturbing Reports from CPS Insiders

I was recently contacted by a pair of former CPS agents who became thoroughly disgusted with the present state of affairs. Initially, I was told that 'Dave, you are spot on with your assessment regarding the nature and intent of CPS's planned enforcement of the concern's delineated in the manual entitled, "Child Neglect: A Guide for Prevention Assessment, and Intervention".

One of the CPS agents proceeded to use the term "concerns" because this manual merely provides a very subjective coverage of the "definition" of neglect/abuse/ children and its subsequent impact. The issues detailed in this "user manual" will be enforced using Obamacare as a legal means to carry out what amounts to tyranny. This is exactly what I recently reported on my website.

The Prime Directive of CPS Is To Steal Children

Both CPS agents admitted to the fact that they were very familiar with the tactics and strategies utilized by the modern day CPS' as they attempt to seize as many children as possible. The CPS (Obamacare) "user manual" was designed "so as to give broad authoritarian powers to CPS caseworkers.

Both CPS agents stated that they witnessed many of the cases they investigated as trivial or, "merely parental oversight" and not worthy of CPS intervention and child seizure. Some CPS caseworkers would issue "founded allegations of parental neglect" for something as trivial as one ounce of marijuana that was mistakenly found by their child". The other former agent stated that they watched co-workers fabricate allegations by citing signs of "child neglect" as they would report that the children were allowed to roam the streets all hours of the day and night even though no such report had been reported to CPS. Neglect allegations are the fall back position of a CPS agent and are usually "all made up".

CPS Has a Quota System For Child Theft

According to one of CPS informants, they had a quota system just like cops do with the only difference being difference that kids were going to be stolen instead of citizens merely receiving speeding tickets.

Overzealous teachers and doctors proved to be fertile sources of reporting parental wrongdoing. State laws mandate that teachers and doctors must report all suspected parental wrongdoing. Once CPS received such a report, there was a good chance that a child was going to be removed from the home as "arrangements would be made for transfer of "temporary custody" before the CPS agents ever left the office to visit the home. One of the CPS agents complained that her supervisors operated on an informal quota system. "If 100 child abuse/neglect were reported, 75 children were going to be taken from their mothers".

The Joy of Inflicting Misery

One of the CPS agents is married and has children. She claims that she was in the extreme minority as most of her fellow caseworkers were "overweight lesbians with no children". Repeatedly, this agent observed a total lack of empathy from the CPS caseworkers for the mothers who would lose their children. Some of her fellow caseworkers would act with glee at the prospect of removing a child and it was often a cause of celebration at the nearby pub during happy hour, where the agents would toast each other for their "accomplishments". The glee from these CPS agents did not come from the satisfaction of saving a child from neglect and abuse, it was more like the joy a hunter gets from killing the hunted. "The more fear and misery inflicted on the mother", the more joyful the job of being a CPS worker became for these monsters that would steal other people's children!"

One of the CPS caseworkers complained that "the opinions of the predominately liberal, authoritarian, overweight female staff will drive the case in any manner they choose, literally. Most CPS offices divide their CPS staff as follows: (1) CPS screeners – these are the people that take "anonymous" phone calls (they know the identity of the caller, you won't) of alleged abuse/neglect and make a determination as to whether sending out a (2) CPS intake caseworker is warranted. If so, the CPS intake caseworker will go out and conduct home/school/work interviews and make a determination if (a) a case will be opened and the child will be removed and placed into CPS custody (with extended family, friends of the family or a foster home), or if (b) a case will be opened and the child will remain in parental custody, with CPS oversight. In both scenarios, the intake CPS caseworker will schedule a court hearing that provides evidence for bringing the child or children into custody. At this point, the child or children become Wards of the state. From this point, parents will be billed by the state for custodial services which include all related caretaking expenses. Shortly following this hearing, a meeting is held at the CPS office to pass the case to an (3) ongoing CPS caseworker. The ongoing CPS caseworker will formulate a service agreement after psychological testing is completed. In all cases, parents and their child(ren) are required to undergo psychological testing. Adults are administered the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale (WAIS) and children are administered the Stanford-Binet Intelligence Scale. Technically, this test can be used for people up to age 23. Complete psychological profiles on all parties are obtained and placed in the family's case file. These psychological profiles determine if anyone has mental disorders and recommend "appropriate treatment". Based on the psychological profiles, the CPS ongoing caseworker will determine what kind of services will be required and those services are detailed in the service agreement: domestic violence counseling, counseling for "personality disorders", alcohol/drug treatment, sex abuse counseling and or a no-contact order between parent(s) and the child; among the parents; or relatives and the child. Violation of the service agreement results in some pretty heavy-handed action. The state will offer to pay for the psychological testing, because once they do, the psychological profiles remain property of the state. If you ever find yourself in this situation, don't let the state pay for this. The state will ONLY USE CPS friendly mental health professionals who will side with the state in a Court of Law. The state WILL USE YOUR PSYCHOLOGICAL PROFILE AGAINST YOU!! Secure your own mental health professional so that you retain the rights to your personal information. Beware, because several CPS caseworkers also double as MSW, MA, MS, Psy.D., or Ph.D. "counselors". Often times, CPS caseworkers attend school to earn these credentials while maintaining employment as CPS caseworkers and open up a "counseling business" on the side to earn extra money while they double dip at taxpayers' expense and they actually make money from taking other people's children".

This Is How They Steal Your Children

The entire mental health system associated with CPS is tilted in the direction of labeling the parent as mentally ill with the one goal of child removal from the home. One former CPS agent produced an account of how your children are stolen and this very graphic individual account was offered:

*"With the revision in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM), published by the American Psychiatric Association, the scope for mental health disorders" has expanded dramatically. Dave Hodges actually wrote about this a few days ago. Also, Alex Jones has covered the abuses of CPS and mental health professionals" at great length. Both Dave Hodges and Alex Jones are 100% accurate. This is scary sh*t people.*

*Depending on the opinion of the CPS ongoing caseworker and the "progress" of the family, determined by several Family Decision Meetings, Court Hearings and Citizen Review Board Hearings (yep, that's right, members of the community actually weigh in on what they feel is best for the child. Socialist Melissa Harris-Perry's wet dream was being practiced in 2009 when I worked for CPS ) the case will either be closed or transferred to a CPS permanency case worker. The CPS permanency case worker will determine if the child(ren) will remain in foster care indefinitely, go up for adoption, return to their parents, or if the parents will be subjected to a Termination of Parental Rights Trial (TPR). Here, the CPS permanency case worker provides an opinion based on all the previous evidence gathered throughout the life of the case, including the heavily weighted psychological profile and makes an "appropriate recommendation". Keep in mind, that a Court will issue a ruling based on the case worker's recommendation 99.99% of the time. If the CPS permanency caseworker determines; based on their opinion, that a TPR trial is warranted, one is scheduled and the state IS ALWAYS successful in terminating the parental rights of the child(ren). Often times, the receiving foster parents are very quick to get a "disabled" diagnosis for their newly acquired foster child(ren), whether it exists or doesn't exist – because the state pays them up to three-times the normal rate for care. The state might pay foster parents $1100.00 per month, per child for caretaking expenses for a non-disabled child(ren) (and then bills the parents for more than this). The state will pay up to $3300.00 per month, per child for "disabled" children.

The definition of a "disabled" child can range from severe mental and or physical disabilities to ADHD. Any subsequent child(ren) that this couple has, automatically become Wards of the state and the parental rights are automatically terminated. In this situation; the state, more specifically, the CPS caseworker is not obligated to illustrate reasonable efforts at reunifying the child(ren) with their parent(s). This is the only exception to bypassing "reunification" efforts. Herein lies the problem, the opinion of the CPS caseworker drives this entire process. So, one caseworker might find parents' actions "egregious" enough to make a recommendation for a TPR trial, whereas another caseworker might return subsequent children to the same parents who had their previous children subjected to TPR trials... I elected to work on a reunification plan, and against the advice of my supervisor, co-workers, foster parents, Citizens Review Board, and caseworkers from other counties who dealt with this family, I returned the child back where he belonged, to his parents. My supervisor accused me of using "cowboy" tactics in the field. She was right, I did in fact use cowboy tactics to ensure that this child returned to his parents".

How much more graphic does it get? The goal of the CPS is to steal your child and terminate your parental rights regardless of how benign the situation may be. These facts lead to the following advice from one the agents:

"If CPS appears at your door, don't answer the door. If your children are not home-schooled, you should really seriously consider home-schooling your children. But, if they are subjected to the public or private school system, train them NOT TO TALK TO STRANGERS. Because CPS will show up at your child's school and CPS will interview them without your knowledge or consent and CPS will remove your child from school without your knowledge or consent".

How to Minimize Your Exposure to the Greatest Kidnapping Ring in America

Again, one of the CPS agents has some very pointed advice on how to avoid being a victim of your state's CPS:

"You need to have a family action plan on what to do in case of emergencies, this includes CPS tyranny emergencies. ALWAYS obtain passports for all of your children. If your children are under the age of 18, both parent's signatures are required for passports. Here's why all children need passports. Marriages occur in churches, divorces don't. If, for some strange reason you and your loving spouse's relationship is on the rocks, or you're embroiled in a bitter custody dispute where the odds are stacked against you; you might need an international escape plan.

Where would you go? Whatever you do, don't flee to Hague Convention countries listed on this link http://adoption.state.gov/hague\_convention/countries.php. These countries have an agreement with the U.S. government to return all missing children to their respective countries. This means if you've fled the country for the sake of your child and end up in one of these countries listed, you can expect to get arrested by the local military or police if they locate you. If you must flee, choose a Non-Hague Convention country, preferably bordering other Non-Hague Convention countries. If you choose this option, it will be necessary to go "ghost". You'll need to cut all forms of communication ties with all family, friends, acquaintances, enemies, current employers, past employers, etc. Get my drift?"

More Disturbing Revelations

The other CPS agent said she had proof that the Arlington and Fairfax, VA. courts are trafficking in children as a result of these previously described cases. The National Defense University (NDU), one of the premiere war colleges, is being implicated as well for being complicit in these practices.

Finally, I have emerging information that ties some of these events into the murder of Ambassador Stevens at Benghazi. It seems that Stevens murder was not just a case of covering up arms for al-Qaeda, just prior to the 2012 election. Further, I am in touch with a senior analyst for the NDU who is providing me with collaborating evidence.

I realize that I am on dangerous ground. Therefore, for my own protection, I have indeed disseminated much of this information and will begin to report on these issue in my next article in which I am going to fully excavate the proverbial rabbit hole.

This is part of the takedown. Certainly any parent who undergoes this experience will be traumatized, as will the children. Inducing trauma seems to be one of the methods of the criminal cabal. Is there some way that this vital information can go everywhere in a local way, as well? If the victims post their info. somewhere in their community openly, or anonymously, with a copy of this article, that would be a start. Also, what are the numbers in different areas and what are the total numbers? American patriots have a better chance of protecting one another if they know this information.

While I agree with much of what you say about CPS here's the problem as I see it. These folks are enabled and empowered by local law enforcement. The force behind these people is the sheriff and police departments. CPS in and of themselves is powerless. They aren't armed are they? I could be wrong about that but as far as I know CPS is not an armed entity. So when a child is to be forcibly removed from a home they call the local police or sheriff for armed support. There is the crux of the problem. Law enforcement is culpable in what is taking place. Not just culpable but largely responsible. All one has to do is read various alternative media outlets and see that law enforcement is out of control. Just two weeks ago a 9 year was put in handcuffs by Portland, Oregon police (http://www.oregonlive.com/portland/index.ssf/2014/05/9-year-old\_led\_away\_in\_handcuf.html) which is tantamount to child abuse. Children are routinely tased and beaten by police. CPS is no doubt guilty of overreach but in my opinion the real problem lies in law enforcement which provides cover for and through use of force enables CPS.

Balls of steel,dave, balls of steel. We need some x special OPs guys to rescue these kids and reunite them with parents then help get them out of the country. I could think of several "lessons" for the sodomites that boy was placed with!

This is an astonishing development. I never seen it coming and it may be bigger than anything Dave has ever covered. In my mind this has huge potential to unite the people against this current corrupt administration. If nothing else this will lead to a head count. Who has a human heart, and who does not. There will be no gray area on this. If one does not have sufficient empathy to get mad as hell, then there is no worth while heart beating in your chest. And you would probably find yourself cheering for cps. I would further imagine that this story would provoke anger at Dave, the messenger, rather than the message. Far to many people operate this way. [ignoring the message and demonizing the messenger] You can't fake this. Revelations like this bring about fear and trembling. Earthquakes that don't register on the Richter scale. I believe our side is about to gain some numbers. Especially as it comes to light how this all dovetails right into Obamacare. I used to thing Odumbass would never leave. Now I think there is no chance he will finish his second term in office.

The coming conflagration is growing to epic proportions.
I think we would all do well to keep Dave in our prayers.
And to Dave: Thank you sir.

There was once a time when authorities did what was in the best interest of parties involved. Unfortunately since then, certain agendas have crept in unawares that have transformed these "authorities" into criminals with badges. You will know them by their fruit. If these modern agencies demonstrate a desire and will to inflict misery and harm as opposed to what is right and good, they are no longer authorities in the best interest but criminals with agendas and therefore need to be treated as such. Common sense will tell you that you do not have to cooperate nor submit to such elements that have your demise in mind. Cooperation and submission will be detrimental to you and those involved. Don't let a suit or badge or "official" identification be the first step in your deception and demise. The devil himself comes disguised as an angel of light. None-the-less he is STILL the devil.

William B Stoecker May 22, 2014 at 7:39 am

Mr. Hodges, you are indeed on dangerous ground. You may be, right now, one of the greatest threats faced by our "glorious leaders." Please make sure that you are armed at all times, and always alert. We cannot afford to lose you.

I worked for six years for the Sacramento County Welfare Department, and back then there were still some honorable CPS workers. Yet when there was real child neglect and abuse by welfare mothers, they seemed powerless to act; the real abusers have "rights." Like our entire legal system the CPS system is an example of Luciferian inversion; criminals go free on technicalities while innocent people are railroaded into prison or have their children stolen. The system is broken beyond fixing and only a violent revolution can change anything.

Some years ago I had a financially disadvantaged friend. He would accept minimal assistance from me, preferring to drive unrealistic distances to go to temporary, part time minimum wage jobs. He even had to start his car by hot wiring because of monetary limitations. I paid his way to a famous amusement park. I bought him several loads of groceries. I assisted him with nominal amounts of gasoline, and fed him when he'd come over to watch TV wrestling or a movie. Since he was willing to work, and take any job offered, is why I helped him, and also because he wouldn't ask for help. He had an older sister who was a social worker. She refused conversation with me and immediately made the completely arbitrary determination that I was "dangerous," this occurred the first time this insufferable harridan laid eyes on me and as I say, without conversation. In junior high a school psychologist told me I had a mental "illness." Her basis? My socks were not perfectly matched. A dark brown sock accidentally got paired with a black sock. Anyone who calls themselves a "mental health professional" should be denied food and water for a radius of 400 miles from Rome—so to speak. Most of them are so dreadfully disgusting that if you were on fire, you'd think twice before hiring them to throw water.

Yep. I live in a rural Virginia county. They tried it with my son's girlfriend's two girls. I became involved (back in 2010). I accused the militant caseworker (yes fat with a penchant of domestic violence with her husband) of trying to steal the girls. She almost fell out of her chair. She slapped my name on a perv list for three years in retaliation, when I had done nothing wrong (except call her out). Well, and except telling the mother to have a lawyer advise her about the forms said agent was trying to force her to sign. The agent wouldn't allow the mother to have a copy for attorney review, said she didn't need an attorney to review it (though the signer gives away significant legal rights). That right there is practicing law without a license because who but an attorney can say whether a document is legally binding or not. It got very twisted very quickly and the accused offender wasn't interviewed for 50 days while I was slapped instantly with a no-contact with the girls. There are a few good CPS workers, but very few. It is a scary, scary situation.

This gives a lot of credibility to the NWO satanic agenda. They use Dykes who care less about your kids and get pleasure from breaking up families. Get right with God and then home school if you can and prepare your family for we live in the end times and society will break down totally. This is extremely scary.

TX CPS is more dangerous than the worst parents and they are taken from far from the worst parents. My DD was taken off asthma meds without being seen by MD for 6wks, moved to a therapeutic fosterhome after injuries not tended by MD for behavior that the worker said was perfectly normal to the judge. My anger at the perjury and endangerment of a child, failure to follow policy was seen as pathological by worker on job less than 90 days hold a BA in business. Ultimately my teen son was repeatedly terrorized in and out of courtroom and I was portrayed as mother who only wanted to look like the perfect mom. So what do you call a drug and ETOH free, homeschooling, church going, RN who has long history of speaking against CPS but has adopted child who steals, lies, runs off, is having trouble with math??? When the child is well developed, well nourished, under the care of pulmonologist, has no injuries and places above grade level except in math what can be claimed? Where do you turn for help with a child?? TX has the fewest resources of all but Mississippi and that gap is closing. How do you make CPS elucidate the 'services' they claim offered, how to get those services, how to have integrity and your child back?? I haven't found the answers for any of this...yet.

My feeling is that Innocence Project needs to help parents with solid cases as mine. Only those with legal standing, ie, been processed can invoke review actions. This is really hard emotionally and expensive to get court transcripts. Some parents fall apart after being so abused by CPS and resort to numbing agents, lose their spouse, their job and suddenly CPS is crowing how bad the parent has become. CPS abuses parents and causes their decline. Parents need support and healing to fight another day. It. Is. Hard.

Then Funding for CPS needs to be reduced by 75% and elimination of bonuses for adopting kids from CPS. Last cycle, TX got 6.5 million blood money. If it becomes unprofitable to take kids they will stop.

Every action of CPS workers needs to be referenced back to a specific policy and signed off by a state licensed person before it is enacted. That person can not have legal immunity. The workers currently are not appropriately educated for the job, are not appropriately supervised and have legal immunity that allows their ego driven bad judgements. The supervisors need to be state licensed social workers for whom it is abundantly clear that acts of perjury will carry hard time. Integrity must be enforced not vaguely suggested, which would be an improvement from current.

Guardian ad litem behaviour must be cleaned up. Currently, this is easy money for corrupt attorneys to be CPS yes men. Since they have legal immunity in CPS cases it appears quite common for Bar standards to be set aside. The Bar needs to initiate this and take a stand for children and families rather than easy money. Then again, perhaps I have found the answers though they are not easy nor definitive. This is going to take work, lots of it. I have nothing more to lose which means I will not back down or shut up.

What can one say. The way things are going just about anybody can get one defined as a "terrorist" by our Lords and Masters including looking cross eyed at some special personage. There is no doubt that some children have been taken, kidnapped, by these state sanctioned busy bodies and child traffickers from politically incorrect parents. If it already hasn't happened, how long do Americans have to wait before the child taking happens to those parents who are designated by the open ended rubric as "terrorist". Under the Agenda 21- NWO-"it takes a village"-dispensation it's only a couple of baby steps from politically incorrect designation to "terrorist". For all you Constitutionlists and other proper but politically incorrect (terrorist) parents, if they come for your babies and they breach the threshold by force give them some lead instead. Check out <http://northwestfront.org/> and the 14 words of David Lane.

Violation of the service agreement results in some pretty heavy-handed action. The state will offer to pay for the psychological testing, because once they do, the psychological profiles remain property of the state. If you ever find yourself in this situation, don't let the state pay for this. The state will ONLY USE CPS friendly mental health professionals who will side with the state in a Court of Law. The state WILL USE YOUR PSYCHOLOGICAL PROFILE AGAINST YOU!! Secure your own mental health professional so that you retain the rights to your personal information.

Please note that in the State of Colorado each party (parent, child, relatives) that seeks any medical, dental, psychological assistance is listed on a black list. Any party listed on this black list loses all HIPPA rights. So, it doesn't matter if you obtain your own medical professional, they are required by State law to disclose any and all information.

Also, anything a child says in confidence is not confidential as of approximately two years ago. Anything is admissible as evidence. If they coerce your child to state untruths, they are admissible in court.

Dave, This is horrifying stuff! I am so glad my children are grown and my grandchildren are living in good environments plus they are all teenagers. I would share with my family, but they would not believe any of it. Too much cognitive dissonance, they are all still living in a dream world and my world views are not appreciated. I have been awake for over 2 years and it can be terrifying. The more research I do, the more crap I uncover. Please take care. I have been following you for well over a year and I fear for your safety. I can't imagine how this links to the Benghazi incident and I look forward to having the dots connected.

NO! I will not teach my son to run from adversity. We will stand in Christ. I see Christ's work in our current hell. My son sees His work. When he is free, we will both attend law school. This is deeper than you think ... Mason's deep! Boatright, Jarboe, many others, Judges, Mayors, Governors. This is international. We can't run. We must fight. I was asked point blank why I didn't run. I stated "That's what you did to the others right? They suddenly die an accidental death and there is none to the wiser because they have lost all contact with humanity." In less than 6 months, my son will be 19, able to be emancipated. I guaranty, I will either be silenced or dead. He will be silenced, dead or committed to a state or federal mental institution. My son at 10 had his own business. He was Young Entrepreneur. He won scholarships. He was two years ahead in math – homeschooled. Sports, boy scouts, science ... everything! We had a beautiful life. Now each moment is horror. I know of the psych eval to avoid. They can commit both of us. Then I can't help him at all. They are destroying us. I stand in Christ that he will allow us to become lawyers and fight the system with every ounce of our beings. We both share this goal. Unfortunately Skylar announced this in court ... you can't imagine the hell we are enduring at this moment. We won't run. We will pray. We will die changing this system. Will we be heard? No. They, most likely, will silence me ... which in turn will silence my son. Or, so they think. I raised my son in Christ. He is strong. They are currently stating he is mentally ill and will either kill himself or someone else. This is all falsification in order to keep him locked up in some facility. I have 34 years in law, including the U.S. Court of Appeals, worked under the Reagan Administration. I am not ignorant or silent. My son is not ignorant or silent. If this is God's purpose for us, so be it. I will give my life for my son and others going through this hell. My son knows the inside. I know the outside. Together we will change the system.

Reality is that most of us cannot afford to get out of Dodge, and we would be sitting ducks for something if we did go, given our general lack of experience in those places. Thank you for exposing yet another of Satan's schemes. Ultimately, he is trying to de-throne Christ, attacking anything God has created, including the family, the Word of God, faith in Christ, etc. Praise God as Our Lord Jesus Christ promises that we do not need to fear, that the time is short, and that he's already "got this war won. Meanwhile, I won't be answering my door . . .

May God bless you and yours during this search and exposure of the truth. We have endured this for over 15 years. I've witnessed many things. I have attempted to expose same. My credibility has been destroyed by this group of evil terrorists. There are foundations formed for the safety of children. My son was raped by a family member of that foundation. They are part of the system abducting children. With the mass single parents in our community it is easy fishing. I want to help. Please help us. God bless each of us. Thank you for your involvement, efforts, endurance.

"Further, I am in touch with a senior analyst for the NDU who is providing me with collaborating evidence." Dave, it's corroborating evidence, not collaborating evidence.

What you're describing is just as bad, or even possibly worse than Vatican priest pedophilia, and to the extent that everything you write is properly represented, you deserve a Nobel Prize (forgetting for a moment that the Nobel Prize has also gone to career liars like Obama and Gore). Parents and kids that get destroyed by the government system need a voice, and the mainstream media will never provide that voice. Actually, a voice is not enough; they need to see this system end permanently. If you sense a course of action that might put CPS out of business, let us know.

Be careful telegraphing your intentions of possibly outing certain individuals because you might get Breitbart. Just do it and let chips fall where they may.

I'm standing behind you with a spade in my hands ! Matthew 10:26

Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

Isaiah 56:1

Thus saith the Lord (Jesus), Keep ye judgment, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

My prayers and support are with you Dave. Keep marching forth for truth and justice. This story is in my backyard !! I could tell other horror stories about the Court System.

child abusers should come to my state because none of the above applies here. (being sarcastic, ok?) as neighborhood watcher i see lots of houses with kids that are verbally abused and screamed at and drugs are used and sold in these houses. you tell the authorities and nothing happens. some of these kids are constantly truant. the overly zealous cps is not here, for sure.

Dave, the Lord Jesus bless you. I stand with you. yes, u are a target of satan and his filthy minions, plead the Blood of Jesus Christ as Christ has already pronounced JUDGMENT on all who would cause a little one to stumble, much less kidnap, abuse, & remove them from the safety & security of a parents' arms.

DAMN THIS FILTH TO HELL. THERE SHOULD BE WAR IN THE STREETS TOMORROW to shut down these sacks of SH*T CPS agencies. they DO NOT BELONG in a God-fearing Republic. if there is abuse suspected, then there are the courts & police – but this GESTAPO DEMONIC CRAP that these CPS agents find glee & financial rewards from MUST be exposed and stopped.

WHERE ARE 10 MILLION MEN who will stand with me and take this country back in Jesus' Name? SCREW cowardice & excuses, let's do this.

Thank you so much for risking everything to expose the truth about the CPS. I have been following this insanity for years and it is getting worse by the day. Here is a little tidbit from Michigan CPS. God Bless you and keep you safe.

Thank you, thank you, thank you! Please continue to expose these evil people. I have been closely following, and signing petitions for at least 2 families fight to regain their children.

With the Henderson case the 'judge' recommended Erica divorce Jeffery, her husband, if she wanted to regain her children! What was his crime, you may ask? He allowed his eldest child to drink a little wine at supper. Oh, did I mention they are Jewish, and it was Shabbat!!!

I wonder if we have enough "Millstones" for them.

I pray that our sovereign Almighty God protects you and your family! Also the Whistleblowers.

So... shoot all they send and string them up for all of HHS to see, then.

Problem solved.

There was a man on youtube in about 2006 that was reporting on this problems of CPS taking children in California. He was also reporting on the global takeover. He called himself "Doc" and his channel was "Sacramaniacs" Evidently, he ended up coming down with several terminal diseases. Due to severe illness he closed down his youtube account. Once you start exposing this stuff like gets really tough.

EDITOR'S NOTE: I COULD HIDE IN THE CORNER, OR, TELL THE BASTARDS TO BRING IT ON. JUDGING BY THE ARTICLES HERE, WHAT DO YOU THINK IS MY LIKELY COURSE OF ACTION?

Mesquite_Thorn May 23, 2014 at 3:04 pm

Kidnapping children from parents who aren't actually abusive psychopaths is grounds for retribution of the harshest order. I can't believe these people aren't winding up full of buckshot, bullets, and bayonets on a regular basis! I would happily execute anyone who attempted to take my child, even CPS.
